MONROE, La. (AP) — Twenty-eight Negroes from a northeast Louisiana parish (county) have passed a voter qualification test conducted by a federal judge under the 1960 Civil Rights Act.

Twenty-nine others flunked the test Thursday and another 25 who had applied to take it did not show up.

No Negro has ever voted in East Carroll Parish, where the tests were given in the first proceeding of its kind under the 1960 act.

Louisiana's attorney general has until July 20 to file written objections to the procedures involved in testing the applicants. U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edwin F. Hunter Jr., who supervised the tests, will take final action on the registration applications following a court hearing July 23.

Hunter handled the applications under a Civil Rights Act provision calling for federal jurists to take such action where a pattern of discrimination has been found to exist.

After another federal judge ordered alleged discrimination halted in East Carroll, 87 Negroes applied to vote.

Hunter adopted the voter qualification test after a conference earlier in the week with Louisiana's Sovereignty Commission, a segregation watchdog unit which recently secured legislative approval of uniform voter registration procedures.

The 12-question, multiple-choice test covered such subjects as what the legislative branch of state government does, how senators are elected and who pays mail carriers.

Eight correct answers were required to pass and five of the Negroes made perfect scores. Those who passed were then required to read aloud in open court the preamble to the Louisiana Constitution.

Brazil Visit Is Postponed by Kennedy

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has postponed until mid-November his planned visit to Brazil.

The official reasons: The approaching windup of the congressional session, plus the fact that election campaigns are coming up in both the United States and Brazil.

But experts on Latin America read into Thursday's announcement concern that a presidential visit during the current Brazilian political crisis could be labeled Yankee intervention.

The White House announcement did not mention Brazil's internal troubles. President Joao Goulart, who recently visited the United States, has been disputing with conservative factions over the type of administration that Brazil should have.

Two prime ministers have resigned during the past two weeks. Brazil's congress has rejected a third, and Goulart's latest choice for the post has not been able to form a cabinet.

Observers of the Latin American scene said Kennedy could not go to Brazil during the political crisis without creating the impression that he was backing one side or the other.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy had planned to leave for Brazil July 30. They were to have returned Aug. 1. Postponement of the visit had been considered a possibility since the Brazilian cabinet crisis erupted June 2.

But the White House had maintained plans for the trip were going ahead—and the President's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, was in Brazil, preparing for Kennedy's visit, when the postponement was announced.

India Guards May Fire on Red Chinese

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman said today the Indian borderland post virtually encircled by about 400 Red Chinese soldiers in lofty Galwan Valley would fire if the Chinese advance any closer.

Previously Indian officials said the Indian soldiers had orders only to defend themselves. There has been no armed clash since the Chinese force suddenly appeared in the remote, three-mile high valley last Tuesday and approached the post from east, west and south.

The spokesman in a prepared statement said:

"There has not been any particular change in the situation in the Galwan Valley. We do not expect the Chinese will attack the post. We cannot, however, rule out the possibility that our post may have to fire in self-defense if the Chinese come up any further."

"We hope, however, that good sense will prevail and they will, as in other cases in the past, withdraw from the vicinity of our post."

The Chinese have crept up to within 50 yards, according to previous reports.

The valley is in the Ladakh area of Kashmir. Red China, in a note Wednesday claimed the area is in Red China's Sinkiang Province, and that the Chinese, not the Indians, were threatened with encirclement.

The Indians, in a protest, said the post is more than 10 miles west of even the border claimed by Red China. India disputes Pei-ping's border claim.

Informed sources said there were 32 men at the post and there would be no air-dropping of supplies to them until the intentions of the Red Chinese became clear. The troops were reported to have supplies for two weeks.

Private Firm Link Ended by Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Agriculture John P. Duncan Jr. disclosed today that he has terminated an arrangement under which he had been a paid adviser to the Georgia Farm Bureau Insurance Company while in his present government post.

Duncan said he was making this fact known because, he said, reports were being circulated that this relationship constituted a conflict of interest between his government job and the insurance company, which he founded. He denied such was the case.

The firm says it does no business with the federal government. Duncan said that under the advisory arrangement he was paid $2,000 a year by the Georgia firm. He draws $20,000 as assistant secretary.

He said in a statement that his relationship with the insurance company had been made known to appropriate officials of the department shortly after his appointment as assistant secretary in February 1961.

Train Crew in Bar Eve of Wreck

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Two crewmen on a passenger train that crashed in Montana last month are accused of having been in bars just before they took over operation of the train. The wreck June 10 killed one person and injured 285 others.

The testimony was given by witnesses Wednesday at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing under way here to try and determine why the Northern Pacific Railway's eastbound North Coast Limited plunged off a mountain grade at Elviro Hill, 15 miles northwest of Missoula.

A bartender and other persons testified the engineer and fireman of the train had been in two different bars in nearby Hot Springs and Paradise, but that both men appeared sober.

The engineer, Eldon Lynn, and fireman, Gerald Haines, have yet to testify.

Mrs. Gail White, wife of a Hot Springs area rancher, said she told Lynn "he should go home, get some sleep and sober up." She said he replied, "Don't worry, you don't have to steer the train, just push buttons."

U. S. Ends Its Bomb Tests in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has wound up its nuclear test series of 2 announced blasts in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific. But there may be more high-altitude shots at the Johnston Island test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday it was lifting the ban on Americans entering the Christmas Island test area, effective at 5 a.m. EST today. The area has been off limits since April 4.

The AEC said the Johnston Island test area set up April 9 remains in effect. That is a circular area, extending around the Pacific island a radius of 470 miles at the surface. The radius increases to 700 nautical miles at 30,000 feet in the air.

The commission said if any more tests are conducted there, they will be announced in advance.

The first test at Christmas Island was exploded April 25. The shots there were air dropped, except for one underwater blast and a submarine-fired Polaris missile test.

Warrants to Faubus Men Cancelled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Appeals were filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court Thursday, including one by a former State Police officer.

J. D. Dean of Alma, a former employe of the Weights and Standards station near Alma, appealed a lower court decision dismissing his complaint against a superior and a truck fleet operator.

Dean charged in his suit that his superior, Capt. Ray Cole, now stationed at Little Rock, issued orders exempting vehicles operated by T. R. Nash from weighing checks.

His original suit was filed in Crawford Chancery Court but Judge Hugh M. Bland of Fort Smith ruled the court lacked jurisdiction.

Cole demurred to the suit and claimed it should be filed in Pulaski County while Nash, who also demurred, contended the complaint showed no violation.

The other appeal was lodged by Mrs. Bessie Gregory of Fordyce seeking a third trial in her $2,250 suit against her late husband's employer.

She asks the high court to require Circuit Judge G. B. Colvin Jr. of Dermott to again set trial for her complaint against Henry and Fred Thompson in which she seeks an insurance settlement.

Colvin rejected Mrs. Gregory's request in June because another trial would be a waste of public money.

Her first suit was filed in September 1959.

Estes Faces Involuntary Bankruptcy

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes is to face his creditors' claims today in a court action here that could reduce the one-time West Texas business giant to involuntary bankruptcy.

After several court encounters with Estes and his attorneys, the Estes Credit Committee has decided to try to put the financier into involuntary bankruptcy.

J. F. Hulse, chairman of the credit committee, said Thursday Estes' creditors will ask U.S. Dist. Court Judge R. E. Thomason of El Paso to declare Estes bankrupt.

But attorneys for Estes indicated in previous hearings they would fight involuntary bankruptcy.

A source close to the case said Estes may claim today his principle business is farming. Under federal bankruptcy statutes, farmers cannot be declared bankrupt involuntarily.

In previous testimony before Judge Thomason, Estes said his principal business was grain storage and fertilizer. Whether grain storage and fertilizer operations can be classified as farming would require court interpretation.

Hulse indicated his committee was moving against Estes because it has not heard from Estes' attorney, John Cofer, concerning buyers of Estes' assets.

Creditors said Thursday that no firm offer to buy the assets has been made. They said they had only heard rumors of prospective buyers.

The rumors, they said, involved purchase in amounts varying from $4 million to $5.3 million.

East-West Negotiations at Dead End

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Berlin settlement talks between the United States and Russia seem to be grinding to a standstill. East-West negotiations on disarmament similarly appear on the verge of stalemate.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed both issues Thursday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. The hour and 45-minute talk failed to yield any progress on either problem.

Just before the meeting Rusk said that if the Soviet government continues to insist on discussing only the problem of how to reduce or to eliminate western positions in Berlin "then there is no basis for serious negotiations in that direction."

On disarmament he is reported to have asked the Soviet government through Dobrynin that it review its opposition to international inspection as a means of safeguarding an arms cut agreement and thus try to find "some way to take some steps to get on with disarmament."

Earlier this week Soviet Premier Khrushchev insisted in a speech in Moscow that U.S., British and French troops must be removed from West Berlin. "The real reason the Western powers want international inspection is to obtain espionage information in the Soviet Union," he said.

U.S. officials privately see no prospect of breaking the deadlock between the U.S. position reflected by Rusk and the Soviet policies stated by Khrushchev. Nevertheless, as Rusk said Thursday, they expect talks to continue on the ground that both Moscow and Washington prefer to maintain contacts on major world issues even if their efforts at agreement get nowhere.

If You Catch "the Day's Eye" Looking at You, Then You're Looking at a Daisy

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Let's talk about a talkative flower, the daisy. You know, "daisies DO tell," so don't voice any secrets in their vicinity. In this area this time of year, that means "Mum's the word" in most flower gardens.

If you think a daisy looks as though it is looking at you with a big beautiful eye, so did the person who named this flower. The name is derived from the Anglo-Saxon and means day's eye.

People and flowers which are found in large numbers many places are sometimes described as "common." In that sense, the garden-variety daisy is common indeed. It is found in North America, throughout Europe (except in the most northern regions) and in Asia Minor.

Did you ever hear of the "hen-and-chicken" daisy? It seems there is one, though we may call it something else. The nickname was given it because it has a main head surrounded by a brood of from 10 to 12 smaller heads.

The ray-florets curve inward and "close" the flower head in dull weather and toward evening.

As for the names of daisies, the familiar are the French "la marguerite" and the beautiful Shasta with its many varieties. The name of no naturalist is more closely associated with the development of the daisy that is that of Luther Burbank. Because of him, we have the Shasta daisy today. His greatest work was with vegetables and berries, but he will be longer remembered by the majority of people for "His Daisy."

Like most plants, the daisy varies in size and luxuriance according to the nature of the soil in which it grows. The cultivated varieties are numerous, bear finely colored flowers, and make very effective borders for walks. They can be found from March to November, but in Southwest Arkansas they are especially beautiful now.

An old wheelbarrow, painted white, is a beautiful container for flowers such as daisies. It is very effective because it provides the proper atmosphere for this hearty party favorite and others like it. Also, it makes a portable flower bed and, therefore, can be wheeled into sunlight or shade depending on which is needed.

A popular book these days tells the reader not to eat the daisies. I don't think there is much danger of that happening, but animals might invade their growing area. To protect them, scatter some mothballs at their base. Placed in a neat row, the little white balls would make a pretty outline for the flower bed.

Ex-Governor of Missouri Dies of Gas

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Former Gov. and Mrs. James T. Blair were found dead in their home west of Jefferson City today. It was believed they were killed during the night by escaping gas.

Their dog also was found dead in the house.

Sheriff Horace Debo said the Blairs apparently left the engine of their car running in the garage attached to the house and deadly carbon monoxide fumes were sucked through the air conditioner.

A maid called the highway patrol after she reported for work this morning and couldn't get into the house.

Debo said the former governor, who served from 1957-61, apparently realized something was wrong and had tried to get out of the house. Both he and his wife, the former Emilie Chorn of Kansas City, were in their night clothes.

Military Building Bill O. K'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint House-Senate conference committee approved Thursday a multi-billion dollar military construction program, including facilities in Arkansas costing $41,000.

It rejected, however, construction of hospital facilities at Blytheville Air Force Base, previously approved in the House.

The committee action will be submitted to each house for approval next week. Such approval is expected to be automatic.

Arkansas projects approved included:

Blytheville AFB, $50,000 for mobile radar control facilities.
Little Rock AFB, $415,000 for operational, hospital and medical facilities.

Pine Bluff, 35 units of military family housing at undisclosed cost.

Also approved were National Guard armories at De Queen, $57,000; Crossett, $57,000; and Harrisburg, $2,000.

President's Old PT Boat in Lawsuit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) The PT boat being used in the filming of President Kennedy's wartime story is the center of a court case.

The Amazon Hose and Rubber Co. of Miami has filed a suit asking that the PT109 be confiscated to pay for materials and labor furnished between May 10 and June 27.

The suit was filed Thursday against Miami Shipbuilding Co., which reconditioned the boat. Later, however, Warner Bros. filed ownership papers and posted a $5,000 surety bond to insure payment of the bill.

Political Pot Beginning to Boil in Ark.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fresh fuel was poured on the heated Arkansas gubernatorial fight Friday night when Mayor F. E. Slaughter of Junction City discounted allegations by former Gov. Sid McMath concerning gas rates in the border community.

In a televised address, McMath earlier this week charged that Arkansas residents of the community pay a higher rate for natural gas than residents on the Louisiana side.

But this was denied by Slaughter who contended in a prepared statement that all residents pay the same rate—that of Louisiana.

While McMath was embroiled in the rate controversy, Kenneth Coffelt appeared in Stone County where he declared he is seeing more people and spending more money than any of the candidates.

Rep. Dale Alford confidently predicted Friday that a runoff in the governor's race is inevitable. Alford told newsmen that he has first hand knowledge that Gov. Orval E. Faubus "said in his own headquarters that he could beat McMath in a runoff but he couldn't beat me."

McMath appeared on his nightly television program where he said he had entered the race for governor to prevent Arkansas from becoming the first state in the union ruled by a dictatorship.

Vernon Whitten spent most of Friday campaigning at larger towns along U.S. Highway 70 from West Memphis to Lonoke. Faubus worked the Alma, Van Buren, Charleston and Paris areas.

David A. Cox of Weiner, who was scheduled to open campaign headquarters this week, has not been actually stumping.

The Junction City gas rate controversy brought the charge from McMath headquarters that "if Mayor Slaughter's gas bill is based on the Louisiana minimum rate then the gas company (Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.) must have granted some special dispensation to keep the people in Junction City from recognizing the large spread between Arkansas and Louisiana gas bills."

Slaughter, whose statement was released through an agency handling publicity for Faubus, accused McMath of making a "tangle of falsehoods" concerning the gas rate.

McMath's headquarters said it based its figures that residents of the Arkansas side averaged $6.19 a month in gas bills while the Louisiana side paid an average of $4.36 on reports from Public Service Commissions of both states.

The McMath spokesman noted that Arkansas' minimum rate is $1.37 while the prevailing Louisiana minimum is $1.10 plus a six-cent rider.

"If the Junction City rate payers are paying the prevailing Louisiana rate, then they're the envy of Arkansas," the spokesman said.

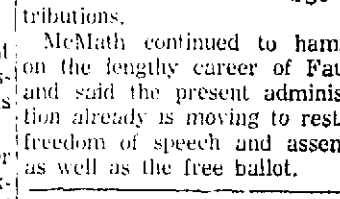

Slaughter, when asked why the Arkansas-side residents were paying the Louisiana rate, replied that he did not know but said it has been the case for some time.

Alford revealed Friday that he had learned of a recent poll showing the governor trailing the congressman by two per cent, with only 33 per cent showing a preference for the incumbent governor.

Alford also announced Friday he is mailing 500,000 comic - book - style booklets to Arkansas families. The colored booklets depict Alford's ancestry, education, congressional career, military service and other facets of his life.

Coffelt let up on speech making Friday because of a temporary failing voice. He did, however, chide his opponents for extravagant expenditures saying all would be "tied hand and foot before they took office" because of large contributions.

McMath continued to hammer on the lengthy career of Faubus and said the present administration already is moving to restrain freedom of speech and assembly as well as the free ballot.

Card games can be very expensive—but so is any game where you hold hands.

Love Versus Sex

By HLEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: When a child, I thought people married for love and that the wedding ring was a magic band forever uniting husband and wife in the blissful security of this love. To me such a love could move mountains and was pure as the first snow.

Reading your column I've come to the conclusion that people marry for sex, divorce for sex and remarry solely because of sex—not love. This is all apropos of some recent advice you dished out to husbands and wives whose mates were unfaithful. You said "Somewhere along the line your marital relations have failed; otherwise there would be no infidelity." Then you suggested they take inventory of themselves to determine whether or not they gave their mates the emotional security of a normal sex life. The very thought depressed and terrified me. I might have married for love, but sex—never! Better that I remain a spinster all my days!—A Reader

Dear Reader: Love wears many faces. Love for God and country is one; love between parent and child another, and love among friends still another. The love between man and woman is all these, plus sex. It is physical as well as spiritual. The marriage vows express it so beautifully: "With my body, I thee worship."

Such a love—and I speak of it in the highest sense—is not based purely upon physical attraction, though that is certainly a factor. Blended with it are loyalty, devotion, self-sacrifice, congeniality of ideas and spiritual unity. Unless you understand that all these things enter into it, you do not know the true meaning of married love. It's like a diamond with many facets. To be perfect, all the facets must be cut. If one or more are missing then the marriage is mediocre or, more often, a failure.

Dear Helen: I plan my Christmas gifts ahead and thus have time to evolve something original. This year the residents of our church's home for the aged are very much on my mind. Your suggestion about perfume making opened up a whole new range of original gifts from which to choose having a beautiful flower garden which could yield the necessary ingredients. Does this sound practical? May I add that your column gives me much pleasure. It seems so "person-to-person." When reading it, I feel as if you were in the room talking to me. —H.A.F.

Dear H. A. F.: It would take acres of gardens to produce one tiny vial of precious essential oil. Distillation is an art in itself, requiring all sorts of complicated presses and glass retorts. For your purpose it is better to buy either natural or synthetic essential oils, depending upon how much you care to spend. My leaflet, "Perfume Making as a Hobby" goes to you today. Thanks for the kind words about the column. In answering the letters, I feel I'm writing as one friend to another, just as with this reply to you.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care in this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Marital Harmony."

Split School Term at Hoxie

HOXIE, Ark. (AP) — The Hoxie School Board announced Thursday plans for resuming the split school term with a six-week summer session starting July 23. Last spring the board voted to end the split term but petitioners urged the return to the divided sessions. Officials said if the matter arises again it will be submitted to school district voters.

Estes Case Warning Was Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Texas farm aid official testified today he did not alert subordinate Texas county officials to warnings in early 1961 that Billie Sol Estes' cotton acreage allotment deals might be illegal.

W. Lewis David, executive director of the Texas State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, gave the testimony in hearings before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

He said a check did not turn up any secret agreements involved in the transactions. He mentioned also the pressure of other business.

David said he and Henry Marshall, one of his aides who was found shot to death the following day, decided on June 2, 1961, that legality of the transactions was a matter for the county committees of Reeves and Pecos counties, told him to run away."

Dora swayed. Anne was planning to run away too. She'd joined Ted as soon as she was well. Anne's voice brought Dora back to reality again.

Anne was urging Ted to escape through the window. "Please, Ted, get away before he comes for you!"

Ted kissed her quickly. "I told her what I did, Dora. She sensed something was wrong. She's gonna be all right, hear?" He paused to turn beseeching eyes to the older woman. "Dora? Promise me you won't tell the Sheriff, please?"

Dora set her thin lips in a firm line. She folded her arms. "I won't tell him, Ted-boy. I promise I won't tell him."

When Dora closed the bedroom door, she could hear the lovers talking. Down the stairs she quietly went and into the hall. As she passed the clock, she stopped to move the minute hand to 12.

Just as Ted was climbing down the trellis, the clock's deep throaty bells, chiming 12 times, awakened the Sheriff. Feeling guilty and suspicious, he stepped outside and looked around, in time to catch Ted.

While Ted was hauled off to jail, Dora was smiling inscrutably—like some benign Buddha—at the ticking time-piece. She reckoned Ted would get three years—the usual sentence in those parts for a first-time burglary.

Softly, she quoted, "Hell hath no fury, like a woman scorned."

British Get 1st Telstar 'Phone Call

By BERNIE GOULD

NEW YORK (AP) — The British jumped the gun and put through the first transatlantic telephone call via Telstar Thursday night. The space communications satellite thus generated an out-of-this-world rivalry between the English and the French.

France made an unscheduled start on transatlantic telecasting Wednesday night. The British called it a "clear breach of faith" and, in apparent retaliation, the French to the draw on international phone calls via space.

The call between scientists in Britain and the United States lasted about 10 minutes and concerned mainly technical matters.

A spokesman for the British Post Office, which controls broadcasting in England much as the Federal Communications Commission does here, termed the experiment a success.

The French denied they broke an agreement which called for the first European television program to be received in the U.S. July 23. Citing a technicality, the French said the agreement provided that the joint European telecast would be "live," while theirs was pre-recorded.

The French program included songs by actor Yves Montand and other entertainers. It was seen in American homes, as was a "live" British telecast bounced off the satellite a few hours later.

The European Broadcasting Union, in a communique issued in Geneva, said the French telecast violated the International agreement "that no TV material of entertainment or informative character be transmitted in advance of the joint Eurovision project."

The first formal transatlantic telephone call via Telstar had been scheduled for tonight between the United States and France.

Instead, the British completed the first such call Thursday night. It was placed by scientists at the Goonhilly Downs tracking station in Cornwall to fellow engineers at American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s ground station at Andover, Maine.

AT&T designed and built the 170-pound Telstar at a cost of $50 million, and paid the government nearly $4 million to launch it from Cape Canaveral Tuesday morning. It was the first privately financed space venture.

The switchboard in outer space is whirling about the globe at an altitude of 600 to 3,500 miles.

Tonight, between 5 and 6 p.m. EST, another transatlantic phone call is scheduled through Telstar. This was to have been the "first," before England beat France to the punch, Eugene J. McNeely, AT&T president, will talk from New York with Jacques Marette, French minister of posts and telecommunications.

Later, about 8:45 p.m., McNeely is scheduled to place a space-relayed call to Great Britain and to speak with an official of the British Post Office.

A 2-Minute Story

CLOCK WITHOUT TIME

By ALEX JANE BENCHLEY

Dora Bremmer, a plain-looking widow of 40, was a bellowing do-gooder who traveled in a horse-drawn buggy through southern Illinois back in 1919. She was left well-off but her stingy nature made her accept free meals and lodging from people she helped.

In Pekin, she took a fierce fancy to young Ted Schultz. Ted needed money to offset his corn crop failure that dry summer. Dora, in the gagging grip of her deep emotion, made an unheard-of gesture.

The sheriff waited in the downstairs living room. Dora sat there, too, in a stiff high-backed chair, softly singing to herself. She turned her glowing black eyes often to the big hall clock, the one that hadn't ticked in years because nobody bothered to move the hands.

Sometime before midnight, the Sheriff's head fell on his chest. He snored. Dora rose and passed through the hall. She stopped to examine the clock and then went upstairs to the sick room. She was surprised to see Anne, sitting up in bed.

"Well, well!" Dora boomed. "I reckon you passed the crisis, young lady."

"Shit!" Ted warned, his fingers to his lips. "Not so loud, Dora. We don't want to wake the Sheriff."

"What are you up to, Ted?" Dora asked, keeping her voice down.

"Ted shouldn't go to jail, Dora," said Anne. "The store got the money back and soon I'll be able to work to pay my bills. I've

"I'll loan you the money, Ted-boy!" she boomed. "But you got to up and marry with me. Them's my terms." Love made her generous.

Ted refused. "I can't, Dora. I love Anne. My heart belongs to her."

Anne was critically ill with a respiratory ailment. He needed money for her medical care. She was alone in the world. Undaunted, Dora offered to sit with Anne and help bring her back to health. Dora moved in with her. At the same time, Dora firmly withdrew the loan offer and this cast a shadow of vengeance for being spurned.

SURVEY WORKERS IN LOCAL STUDY ASSOCIATED DOCTORS TO EXPLAIN HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL INSURANCE

Due to rapid rise of hospital and medical costs, The Associated Doctors Health & Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, Alabama has commissioned a number of representatives to poll Hempstead County for the purpose of determining whether existing Hospital and Medical Insurance is adequate to cover modern needs.

In the period since November 1954, Associated Doctors Health & Life Insurance Company, through exhaustive claim studies, has found a tremendous difference existing between average family protection and the true cost of sickness and accidents.

To better explain the correlation between hospital and medical insurance and the cost factors involved, Associated Doctors Health & Life Insurance Company will have more than twenty representatives in your neighborhood for the next ten days to explain the need for modernizing your insurance.

A PLAN FOR EVERYONE

During the survey period, company representatives will discuss hospitalization insurance . . . from the basic level. They will tell you of a plan that pays up to $15,000 per day room and board for 115 days when you are confined to the hospital for any one sickness or accident, X-ray, operating room, anesthesia, ambulance service, medicines, and many other benefits will be outlined, showing how all these benefits can exist under one insurance contract.

A plan to offset the high cost of Medical-Surgical Fees will also be discussed. Associated Doctor representatives will show you how you pre-arrange payment for Doctor's calls in the home, in the Hospital, or in the clinic. Under this extraordinary plan you will learn how electrocardiograms, basal metabolism tests and other examinations vital to your health can be covered by insurance — to the extent that as much as $750.00 can be paid to your medical doctor or $650.00 to your surgeon.

Income protection when you are sick or hurt will be explained. You will learn how you can draw up to $400.00 per month depending on individual requirements when injuries or sickness keep you from working. Income protection can even be carried on the mother in the family.

In many cases your existing hospital and medical insurance contract may already cover the high cost of illness. Even in such cases as this, Associated Doctors representatives will be able to explain a marvelous plan to provide you and your family with $100.00 per week — up to $5,200.00 annually. This wonderful plan pays from the very first day of hospital confinement and keeps on paying until you are officially released.

COVERAGE FOR OLDER PEOPLE

One of the primary functions of

Associated Doctors local study will be to ascertain the degree of hospital and medical coverage for older people. Associated Doctors Health & Life Insurance Company has pioneered hospital and medical protection for people past 65 who in many instances, have found it difficult to obtain health insurance.

Through the efforts of Associated Doctors' Medical Advisory Committee, medical care coverage heretofore unavailable has been devised and made easily available to all men and women regardless of age. No longer is it necessary for older people to deplete their savings when serious illness or accidents occur.

So, when the Associated Doctors' representative knocks on your door, talk to him. You will discover how, in sickness or in health, good insurance can be your partner for life . . . how you can rely on ready funds to protect you when the need arises. The Associated Doctors' representative will tell you in five minutes how you can afford to be sick.

In the event the survey workers fail to reach you during this important period, just drop a card in the mail and full particulars will be sent to you within a few days. Call Enrollment Director, Prospect 7-4611 in Hope or write: Associated Doctors Health & Life Insurance Company, P. O. Box 1436, Texarkana, Ark.

Foreign Aid Terms Are Relaxed

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House has voted to allow President Kennedy to aid Communist countries if he sees a chance to pry them from Kremlin domination.

After giving the President this major victory Thursday, the House went on to pass a bill authorizing him to spend $4,668,500,000 for military aid and economic assistance this year. The roll call vote was 250 to 184.

Kennedy did not get everything he wanted from the House and got, in fact, some things he'd rather not have.

The authorization is $210 million below his original request and it carries two amendments he considers noxious: A ban on loans or grants to the United Nations until other members pay their back

Fights Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. - Emilio Griffith, 145 1/2, New York, outpointed Ralph Dupas, 145 1/2, New Orleans, 15 (Griffith retained world welterweight title).

TOKYO - Katsuzo Nakamura, 130B, Japan, knocked out Danchai Yontrakul 133 1/4, Thailand, 1.

assessments; a requirement that he stop aid to nations that seize American property unless appropriate steps are taken within six months to make fair payment.

The shape the foreign aid measure finally will take depends on how a Senate-House conference committee resolves the Houses version and one passed earlier by the Senate.

And the tough fight on money will come later in the session when appropriations bills actually to provide foreign aid money are debated and voted on by both chambers.

In its bill the Senate voted to authorize foreign aid spending of $4,662,000,000 - $6.5 million less than the House. The Senate also acted contrary to Kennedy's wishes by barring all assistance to Communist countries with the exception of surplus food.

Since then the administration has fought to have these handcuffs unlocked by the House. The bipartisan effort to give the President a freer hand was by a standing vote of 277 to 4. This came after a similar vote of 201 to 44 had defeated an amendment by Rep. Thomas Feighan, D-Ohio, that would have permitted aid only if a country overthrew its Communist government.

LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Is The Lord Our God

in Judea

This is he of whom it is written, the voice of one crying in the wilderness and saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom is at hand. Here John, a great preacher, warned the throng to prepare the way of the Lord, to make His paths straight. Great preachers today plead with us to be ready, for we know not the hour when the son of man cometh. Here, as in Judea where John spoke, men openly defy God, attack His church and its program of service and display contempt for His cause on the earth. Woe be it to those who take Him lightly, or to those who never take Him at all. Worldly gain at the expense of Heavenly loss, isn't much gain. You may be sure, Brother, at the opportune hour, His chosen moment, — He, whose fan is in His hand, will thoroughly purge His floor.
